SHOULDER

From the back, and standing up straight, measure the wearer from shoulder seam to shoulder seam. Always take the next size up if unsure or in between sizes!

If the wearer is not available for measurement, you can also measure a standard dress shirt that fits them well. If you provide measurements of the shirt, please indicate so on the order.

CHEST

The measurement is taken all the way around directly under the armpits with arms relaxed.

NECK

Wrap the measuring tape around the neck, beginning at the Adam's apple. Come fully around the neck, leaving no at least one finger width space in between the neck and the tape.

Neck measurement can also be found on the tag of a standard sized "dress shirt" that fits well.

HEIGHT (Shirt length)

Help may be required to do this. Measurement is taken from the back and at the middle of the neck (the seam where the collar attaches to the shirt) to the bottom of the desired shirt drape. It is the customer's preference to whether the shirt should reach the center or bottom of the zipper line.

LONG SLEEVE

The measurement is from the shoulder seam to the bottom of the wrist and top of hand with arm slightly bent. (Measurement not required for short sleeves)

If the wearer is not available for measurement, you can also measure a standard dress shirt that fits well.

Measurement is taken from the shoulder seam to the bottom of the sleeve cuff. If you provide measurements of the shirt, please indicate so on the order.

BELLY/STOMACH

If the wearer has a more prominent belly, taking a belly measurement is recommended. Measure around the largest point of the belly.
